

Denise Roth Barber, Managing Director, Follow the Money (National Institute on Money in State Politics)

Denise has served as managing director of NIMSP since 2010, after four years as research director and seven years as researcher. Denise leads the Institute's research related to Citizens United v. FEC . As managing director, she supervises the data acquisition coordinator, researchers, and IT and communications staff. Denise also writes occasional reports on special and timely topics. Before joining the Institute, Denise was an organizer with the Northern Plains Resource Council for six years, where she worked with local Montana communities on conservation issues

